Reflections with Pastor Scott

"I lift my eyes to the hills-from where will my help come? My help comes from the Lord, who made heaven and earth." Psalm 121:1-2

Over the last several months I have been thinking about the new year and what it means to follow Christ amidst a world that flashes a multitude of options to follow. In an early December morning devotion, I came across these words from Catherine Booth, co-founder of the Salvation Army, "There is no improving the future without disturbing the present." There is much truth in these words and often it is a painful truth. Painful because it means change and loss.

I once heard it said, "It isn't that people don't like change, it's more that they don't like what they often lose in the process." Again, there is truth in these words, and I see it often in myself and others who are in the second half of life. As we grow older, the losses seem to increase and accelerate in how often those losses show up. In an ever-changing world where technology continues to grow, that change is happening lightning fast and can make us long for stability and calm. That, in turn, can make us nostalgic for the past and so we try and cling to it, acting as if it was "all so perfect back then." The fact is, it wasn't perfect and when we cling to the past, it can leave us in a state of constant complaint of what presently is and keep us from moving forward. However, if we look to the past and see the presence of God who is always making all things new in those that have gone before us and cling to that, we have courage and strength to face the future in front of us. Not only do we have courage and strength, but our deep desire is to live according to God's will, as we pray each Sunday in The Lord's Prayer, "Thy will be done."

So as we move into a new year we look to the presence of God among the people of God since 1890 at Camano Lutheran Church and see that just as God was present with those before us, God will certainly be with us in the present to help us live out God's will for our life as a community of faith. "We lift my eyes to the hills-from where will my help come? My help comes from the Lord, who made heaven and earth." Psalm 121:1-2

This is part one of a three-part series. Next month we look at the Gospel calling in the present followed by part 3, trusting God with our future.

Continuing the Journey of faith with you,

Pastor Scott

From the Bishop:

January 2026

Several years ago, when I was a young pastor serving in a congregation, a member came to tell me he was leaving the church for another one. When I asked why, he said, "I don't like all the lovey-dovey stuff." I was caught off guard and didn't have a very good response in the moment. Now I wish I had said something like, "When you say 'lovey, dovey' are you referring to the Sermon on the Mount when Jesus says we are to love even our enemies? Or when Jesus says his new command is that we love one another as he has loved us? Or when Jesus, hanging on the cross, says, 'Father, forgive them?' Or when the risen Jesus shows up on the shore, feeds his friends, and asks Peter – three times – 'Do you love me?' Or, maybe you mean Paul, who says that you can have all kinds of gifts and accomplishments, but without love, you are nothing. Or when Paul writes that out of faith, hope, and love, love is the greatest or ...". You get the idea. But I didn't have those words that day.

Now, several years later, I wish I could answer him again. Because as much as he thought he was rejecting something weak, living into God's expansive love is anything but. It can be beautiful and life-giving, yes – but it is also demanding and hard. Especially when that love calls us to care for people we don't particularly like, let alone agree with.

Today, in this fractured time, in this fractured world, how do we live into being 'lovey-dovey' in the way God first shows us through Jesus? How do we love when we're afraid? How do we love those who are causing real harm? How do we love people with whom we feel uncomfortable or "icky?" How do we love those we would rather avoid? How do we love those we despise?

First, we have to be honest with ourselves. As clearly as we may see the sin of others, we also must acknowledge our own. We fall short time and time again. We cannot justify ourselves out of sin, nor can we place ourselves above anyone else. God is the one who comes in Jesus to bring wholeness, reconciliation, and salvation – not just to some, but to the whole world (John 3:16-17).

Second, every person is made in the image of God. Every person is a small miracle. God formed each person with care and intention. Every person, all eight billion of us on this planet, are a wonder and a joy to God. God loves each person beyond measure. God loves those fleeing countries (like Moses and the holy family). God loves those tangled up in messes of their own making (like David). God loves those who are trying their very best (like Martha). God even loves those who would rather scroll on their phones than engage (well ... for a scriptural reference perhaps this could be those churches in Revelation who are neither hot nor cold). God loves us all. Thank God!

And because of God's amazing love, we are called to listen to one another and open our hearts to one another. This, of course, also means speaking up when there is injustice or harm – not out of hatred but out of love. Love rooted in Christ requires us to name and resist when harmful decisions made by those in power damage lives, especially when those decisions fall hardest on people who have been marginalized, silenced or erased. Love rooted in Christ pushes us to advocate for policies and practices that move people and systems toward equity and inclusion – whether we are talking about immigrants or farmers, children or grandmothers, those with homes and those without – neighbors all.

Third, we cannot love as God calls us to love on our own (see #1 above). We need the Holy Spirit and we need community. We need one another for accountability, and we need each other to help us journey forward together – beyond fear, beyond hatred, beyond the walls that we so easily build. Love cannot remain theoretical and abstract. No. Love is gritty and enfleshed.

As we begin 2026, I pray that, through the Holy Spirit, we love God and one another in our words and our actions. I pray that we practice loving all – even our enemies. And I pray that in this new year, others will look at us and say, "Wow. They are fiercely 'lovely-dovey.'"

Following the Way of Jesus, may it be so. Bishop Shelley Bryan Wee | bishop@lutheransnw.org

Continued —>

From the VEEP:

"You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the greatest and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself." (Matthew 22: 37-39)

I love you! How often do you hear those words? How often do you say them to others? Besides your pets, I mean. Let's face it, I tell my cat I love her more than I tell the people around me. I was thinking about this because back in November, Brian Crane, the cartoonist behind the strip "Pickles" ran a series of strips wherein Opal, Earl's wife, complained because he rarely told her he loved her. Earl is gob smacked. After all, he told Opal he loved her at their wedding, when their daughter was born, and probably on their 50th wedding anniversary - why should she need to hear it more often than that? Surely she knew he loved her because of how he treated her.

I think there are a lot of people out there like Earl. They don't say the words because they assume people will know how they feel because of their actions. I am also reminded of the song "Do you Love me?" from Fiddler on the Roof. After twenty-five years of marriage, Tevye asks Golde if she loves him. She responds by saying she does his laundry, cooks his meals, gave him children, shares his bed and his life. Ah yes, he says, but does she love him? She finally responds by asking him if all that isn't love, what is? The song ends with them each declaring their love in words, which, they remind each other, doesn't change anything, but after twenty-five years, it is nice to know.

God calls us to love God, neighbor, and even our enemies. I know that means through loving action and not just lip service, but it is also important to say and hear the words.

God loves you. As we approach epiphany, this is the revelation that the magi receive. God's love is for everyone, not just a select few. It doesn't matter what we do or say, "nothing can ever separate us from God's love. Neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither our fears for today nor our worries about tomorrow." (Romans 8: 31-39) ALL of us are loved by God. As the body of Christ, we are called to reflect that love to those around us.

I don't know what it is that makes so many of us so reticent to say the words. Maybe saying them out loud implies a commitment we aren't sure we are ready to fulfill. Regardless, since we are called to love, maybe we should announce that a little more often. So, as we enter this new calendar year and we make our list of resolutions, might I suggest we resolve not to be the Earls of the world, refraining from saying those simple words. Rather, let us shout to God and to our neighbors: I love you. Te amo. Je t'aime. Ich liebe dich. Ti amo. أحبك. 我爱你. ฉันรักคุณ. Я тебя люблю. я люблю тебе. . אוהב אני אותך. 愛しています. Jag älskar dig. Ik houd van jou. Rakastan sinua. Aloha wau iā 'oe. Ixsiḡán. (I used Google translate - I hope these are correct). God loves you. I love you. You are loved!

Here's what I or the council have been up to in December:

- Synod Executive Committee: Met December 11 via Zoom. Among other business we allocated the yearly disbursement of funds from the Maritime Ministries and Mission in Washington Endowments.
- Synod Equity Listening Team: I continue to have 1:1 meetings with leaders throughout the synod.
- Synod Policy Review Team: We continue to meet to review and revise policies with an eye to relevance and equity.

December 2025 Notes From The Property Maintenance Team

The following tasks were accomplished during the past month:

Replaced broken paper towel dispenser over a kitchen sink

Fire Department responded to inadvertent activation of the Fire Alarm; reset system.

Replaced broken electrical outlet in Child Care Director's office.

Set up large outside Advent Candles by the reader board sign facing SR-532.

Stilly River Mechanical replaced the remaining older furnace in Pioneer basement that finally failed.

Madd Electric assisted with installing necessary wiring for the keypad entry system to Child Care spaces, the Fellowship Hall, and the Small Sanctuary. Final installation and inspection of keypads in progress.

Pioneer Hall kitchen roof began leaking during heavy rains. An "anonymous" Pastor placed a waste basket under leak in kitchen, then climbed through attic access hatch in bathroom ceiling to place buckets under suspected area of origination. (According to a reliable source, "older" property team members "should know better" then climb ladders to "fix" things.) Permanent repair options are being considered.

ANDGAR conducted annual inspection, servicing, and replacing filters on the HVAC units for Fellowship Hall and office spaces.

Adjusted closure setting on entry door arm to Fellowship Hall.

As 2025 comes to an end, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all.

Your friendly property Management Team

Childcare Corner January 2026

Happy New Year! We hope everyone had a wonderful and restful holiday season. Our childcare program is back in full swing, and we are excited for the year ahead.

We will be closed on the following days:

- Monday, January 19 in observance of Martin Luther King Jr. Day
- Friday, January 23 for an onsite, in-person staff training day to support the continued growth and training of our staff

Exciting Updates

We are excited that new keypad entry locks have been installed at the childcare building as well as the double doors into the church. This enhancement provides an additional layer of security, ensuring that only authorized individuals are able to access the facility.

In addition, our new camera system has arrived and will be installed soon. This upgraded system offers higher-quality imaging and expanded features, adding to the safety and monitoring of our program.

Enrollment Opportunities

We currently have openings for 2-year-olds as well as school-age children. If you know a family in need of childcare, we would be happy to connect with them. They may contact us at 360-629-2253 to arrange a tour or get more information.

NORTHWEST

Health. Justice. Hope.

Dear Camano Lutheran Church,

Thank you so much for your thoughtful donation of $75.00 on 11/18/2025 to support Lutheran Community Services Northwest's critical mission to bring health, justice and hope to our communities. Hope is the operative word. Your gift aids us in providing life-affirming services to those in need.

We are passionate about helping our clients find opportunities for growth and improvement. We seek to energize them with the tools they need to thrive. LCSNW works with individuals, families and communities to face the future with vision, support and resiliency.

Your generous giving helps us to make this mission a reality. Thank you!

Dear Camano Lutheran Church,

Thank you for your $100.00 gift to Lutherwood Camp and Retreat Center! Your gift helps further our mission of sharing God's love by allowing others to Explore GRACE in Creation.

As fall arrives and the air grows crisp, we pause to reflect on a summer filled with laughter, learning, and life-changing experiences at Lutherwood. Because of your generosity, campers of all ages experienced God's creation in fresh and meaningful ways—whether through a hike under towering cedars, a quiet moment under the stars, or the joy of worshipping together by the shores of Lake Samish.

Your gift doesn't just help us run another summer of camp—it plants seeds of faith, friendship, and resilience that will grow well into the future. As we transition into the fall season, the impact of your support continues to echo in the stories, prayers, and lives of those who came to Lutherwood this summer and will come this fall. God is still changing lives here on Lake Samish, and your gift makes it possible.

We are already busy preparing for the year ahead—maintaining our facilities, planning next summer's programs, and expanding opportunities for retreats, outdoor education, and congregational connections. Your partnership helps ensure that Lutherwood remains a vital place in Western Washington where people can root themselves in God's love and grow in faith, season after season.

Thank you for being part of the Lutherwood family. We couldn't do it without you, and we're grateful to walk this journey together.

In Christ,

Dear Friends,

Thank you for your gift of $100.00 to Lutheran World Relief given through the Northwest Washington Synod of the ELCA. Your compassion changes lives in so many ways. Here's just one example:

Zoungrana Balguissa's family has a small farm in Burkina Faso. For years, millet and beans were all they knew how to grow. They could barely produce enough to eat, let alone pay for their medical needs or the children's school fees. Then the cost of fertilizer skyrocketed by 100% due to the war in Ukraine, and the weather began working against them. They had prolonged droughts during the rainy season, followed by heavy rains that washed all their crops away.

Zoungrana's income and food sources were dwindling to nothing. Then gifts like yours empowered her to add poultry to the farm, and her family's income has increased exponentially. Her confidence has grown, her children are attending school, and she has even reinvested some of her profits to expand her chicken coop.

Thank you for changing lives with your generosity. I'm excited to see whose life you will change next... until your love reaches every neighbor.

Warm Regards,
